A Spoonful of “Sugar” Helps the Medicine Go Down

To reduce discomfort when administering potassium in a peripheral line, mix in 2 mL of a 1% lidocaine solution. This may also work with other painful IV medications, but first check with the pharmacy for drug interactions.

-- Charles T. Dodson, DO
San Antonio, Tex

Source URL:
http://www.physicianspractice.com/clinical-tip/spoonful-%E2%80%9Csugar%E2%80%9D-helps-medicine-go-down

Links: